Skype for Android™ is the only fully featured free software client for Skype with video, voice and text chat. Skype is the most popular VoIP platform. If you want to make phone calls from your phone to a landline, Skype for Android uses VoIP technology, and Skype is fully integrated with Google's phone system, giving you access to tens of millions of other people. There's no need to get a separate app to make free calls, with Skype for Android you can make voice and video calls from your mobile phone using your mobile data plan. The video call feature of Skype for Android is optimized for the high-definition mobile screen, and for the first time Skype for Android supports HD Voice, letting you make better-quality calls. Skype for Android also gives you access to your contacts, files, calendar and other apps you already use on your mobile device. You can make text and video calls to other people in your Skype address book, and you can even use VoIP apps for the iPhone and other Android devices. *

It can record any Skype out/in calls, conference calls, or any other skype out call. It records the calls to an MP3 file or to WAV. You can mute the audio part, but keep the microphone on to have the option to answer. You can send SMS to the number that you entered to have it automatically answer when you receive an SMS from it. Works only if you have Skype installed, and has no sync issues. Posted on Dec 12, 2010 by jonamor i think that this is not a free software. if you search it on google, you will find a lot of people complaining about this program. and that is the reason why you cannot download it. i found a free version of it on youtube. but i dont know how it works. i guess i will check it out after a few hours. Posted on Jan 30, 2011 by thomasf This software is not free. They charge an annual subscription which is less than $10 for the basic version. It was a lot cheaper before. It has many options you can enable or disable. I am not certain if the paid version includes all the options in the free version. Posted on Feb 27, 2011 by j-c-n-n-w For sure it's not free, but it's much cheaper than the other 4-5-10$ applications I've tried! Posted on Mar 12, 2011 by kevin.jr This is free and it's for recording in skype. I guess I'm stuck with it for now. Posted 2edc1e01e8
